About Allie

Allie Hartman is a change management leader, researcher and advisor who works at the intersection of AI, human behavior and organizational transformation. She blends evidence-based practice with a curiosity-driven approach to help people navigate complex change with clarity and confidence.

As the founder of The Change Curiosity Lab, a board member of the Association of Change Management Professionals (ACMP) and AI Transformation Project Manager at AgileOne, Allie brings a practical, human lens to fast-moving technology. Her talks and workshops make AI approachable and useful, giving people tools they can apply right away.

Passionate about sparking curiosity and reimagining possibilities, Allie blends her expertise in change management, program management and AI with a deep commitment to helping others grow, engage and innovate.

Speaking Topics

Curiosity as a Change Advantage

How curiosity improves sensemaking, reduces blind spots and strengthens decision quality during change. Includes tools and habits teams can apply immediately.

Human-Centered AI

How AI shifts leadership credibility, trust and expectations. Clear guidance on what leaders need to practice now to stay effective.

AI-Ready Change Management

A practical walkthrough of how AI changes planning, engagement and capability building across each ACMP process group.

The Future of Change

What the next era of change work looks like. How practitioners move from “managing change” to building adaptive systems and empowering change.

Boost Your Brain with AI

A simple three-step method for using AI as a thought partner in planning, analysis and creative thinking.
